About JCC Spam Firewall

JCC Spam FireWall is a service provided by JCC to help filter out unwanted emails. JCC Spam Firewall uses a set of algorithms to determine if a message could potentially be spam. If JCC Spam Firewall suspects a message to be spam, it places it into a quarantine folder. A user can then sort the messages to determine which messages they want delivered to their Groupware Inbox, which messages to Whitelist, which messages to Blacklist, which messages to delete, and which messages to ignore.

Getting Started

JCC Spam Firewall Basics

By default, the spam firewall sends a message daily to your Groupware Inbox, notifying you of any suspected spam you've received. This email contains a summary of how many messages you've received and will provide a link to your Quarantine Inbox at the bottom of the email. Click on this link. Your Quarantine Inbox contains all the messages it has classified as potential spam. Messages will automatically be deleted from your Quarantine Inbox after fourteen (14) days. You can organize your quarantined messages by using the Inbox Filter.

Spam/Virus Protection By ARRACIDIA

Note: You must access your JCC Spam Firewall by going to the Summary message in your Groupware Inbox and clicking the link at the bottom.

The Quarantine Inbox Filter lets you view a list of messages that meet a certain criteria. To filter your messages, just select the terms you wish to filter by, type in the keyword pattern, and then click “Apply Filter”. To narrow your search, you can also further define the filter by inserting other lines to the query.

To simply deliver or delete certain messages, check the box to the left of the message(s) and then click either “Deliver” or “Delete”.

If you want messages from a certain address or domain to be sent straight to your Groupware Inbox and not be quarantined, simply add the message(s) to your Whitelist. To do this, select the messages that you wish to add to your Whitelist, and then click “Whitelist”.

JCC Spam Firewall will not catch every message that one might consider to be spam. However, the firewall can “learn” what you classify as “spam” and “not spam” by using a special Bayesian process that recognizes patterns in your classifications, and will try to sort your mail for you. To assist with this process, you must classify messages as spam or not. To classify messages as “Spam” simply check the messages you want to classify as spam and then click the “Classify as Spam” button. To classify messages that are not spam, simply check the messages you wish to classify, and then click the “Classify as Not Spam”. This Bayesian process is not effective until at least 200 messages have been classified as “Not Spam” and another 200 as “Spam”.

If messages from a certain address or domain are repeatedly clogging up your Quarantine Inbox and you are tired of continually having to manage them, you may add that address to your Blacklist. The Blacklist will automatically delete any message sent to you from addresses on the list. Also, the messages will not appear in the Quarantine Summary email. To add an address to the Blacklist, click on the Preferences tab, and then add the address/domain to the Blacklist.

Note: Spoofed addresses seem to come from the same address, but have a slightly different header. If you add an address/domain to your Blacklist and it keeps appearing in your Quarantine Inbox, it is because the header address is different.
